There was an exciting scene in the house of commons to-day. Sir Donald Horne Macfarlane (Liberal) member for Argyllshire, after receiving an evasive reply to his question as to when the crofters bill would be taken up, stated that the Scotch members would withdraw their support from the government. This caused the chancellor of the exchequer, Sir William Vernon Harcourt, to reply in a towering rage that it would be open to the Scotch members to do as they pleased. Thereupon Mr. Donald Macgregor, Liberal member for Inverness, retorted, "are we to understand that the government is going to show the white feather to the opposition?" The chancellor of the exchequer made no reply.

The house of commons to-day adopted a proposal made by the chancellor of the exchequer, when he presented his budget on May 2nd, re-imposing a duty of 6d. per gallon on beer, which will convert the estimated deficit of £310,000 into a surplus of £181,000. The vote stood 230 to 206.

A dispatch received at Buenos Ayres from Valparaiso to-day says that the treaty of peace and friendship will be concluded between Chili and Bolivia, by which the former cedes to Bolivia a small strip of territory and a port on the Pacific, midway between Iquique and Pisagua, Chili, and in return receives commercial advantages.

INSURGENTS SUCCESSFUL.

Some Fierce Fighting Occurs in Cuba—Royal Troops Licked.

Tampa, Fla., May 10.—Passengers arriving on the Plant steamship Mascotte say the condition of things is encouraging to the insurgents in Cuba. It is declared that Camaguay has been invaded by Gomez, and he, with 3000 insurgents, besieged Guaimaro on Monday. There were about 2000 Spaniards in the city, and, so the passengers say, after the fighting became disastrous for the besieged, the regiment of Cadiz, numbering about 2500, arrived, attacking the Cubans in the rear. Gomez quickly recovered from the first onslaught and, while a small force kept up the conflict with the forces of the city, his main body faced the new enemy. The fighting was fierce, but the strategy of Gomez and the insurgents ruled their victory. Smallpox and yellow fever are said to be very prevalent. Campos is said to be greatly displeased with the situation, and the Cuban insurgent leaders are hopeful of another crisis in the cabinet, which will require Campos' return.

A TROUBLESOME IMMIGRANT.

A Colombian Plant Transferred to Louisiana Becomes a Nuisance.

An assisted immigrant is making a lot of trouble in Louisiana. It is a plant, a water-hyacinth, which a man from New Orleans saw and admired about three years ago while on a visit to Colombia. He brought some bulbs of it home with him and grew them in tubs in his front yard. In about two years patches of the flower appeared in the Bayou St. John, which connects New Orleans with Lake Pontchartrain. In another year the bayou was full of it, so that navigation was impeded. Now all the canals near New Orleans are overrun and covered up with this invading flower; great masses of it are floating in the lake; rivers running into the lake are choked with it, and it has travelled a hundred miles to the westward of New Orleans. It grows enormously, spreads like rabbits in Australia, chokes all the bayous and streams it gets into, and is a tremendous nuisance, the limitations of which are not in sight. In Colombia it is a harmless, flowering plant that grows in tubs, but in Louisiana the conditions suit it, and have developed it into the most flourishing and obstinate pest the state has known since she lost the Louisiana lottery.—Harper's Weekly.

A RAID ON THE TREASURY.

Delegation from Montreal Modestly Requests a Half a Million Dollar Bonus.

Canada's Ultimatum Has Been Forwarded to Newfoundland—What is It?

Ottawa, May 10.—Dalton McCarthy yesterday drew the attention of the house of commons to the conduct of Lt.-Governor Schultz of Manitoba in publishing Bourinot's letter on the remedial order. McCarthy, Mills and Martin severely condemned the governor's action. The member for Winnipeg cited a number of other instances of alleged misconduct. Foster, Dickey and Daly defended the governor.

In the house to-day Foster, replying to Davies, said that Canada's ultimatum to Newfoundland had been forwarded to the colony. He would not say anything more than that.

A delegation arrived here this afternoon to ask a bonus from the government for the proposed exhibition in Montreal in 1896. It is reported that they wanted about a quarter of a million dollars.

Gage, of Toronto, is here about the proposed home for consumptives. He expects to get a grant from the government after interviewing the ministers to-day.

Lyons, N. Y., May 10.—The inquest is progressing in the case of Roy M. The evidence so far goes to show that Culvert was murdered and thrown into the river. Dr. Wm. M. Smith, who has been examining the stomach of the dead man, said he found arsenic in that organ.

SCENE IN THE COMMONS.

Patriot Rossa Interrupts the Proceedings and is Promptly Kicked Out.

The American Countess Will Realize the Dream of Her Life—B. C. Loan.

London, May 8.—There was an exciting and unprecedented scene in the house of commons this afternoon. Just as the chief secretary for Ireland, John Morley, had finished his speech discussing the bill of Edmund F. V. Knox, member for West Cavan, anti-Parnellite, to repeal the crimes act, O'Donovan Rossa, the well-known Irish agitator from New York, arose from a seat in the strangers' gallery and exclaimed: "Mr. Speaker, the assassin's blow has been aimed at me in this house, and a stain has been put on my name." Rossa's remarks were greeted with loud shouts of "order."

The sergeant-at-arms summarily ejected Rossa from the house. At the time the members did not know it was Rossa who interrupted the proceedings, and when his identity became known the sensation increased. The previous speaker, it appears, had alluded in uncomplimentary terms to O'Donovan Rossa. Rossa, after being ejected, was marched off the premises by bluecoats, who warned him not to show his face there again. After several hours' debate following the speech by Morley, who warmly supported the bill, cloture was adopted by a vote of 225 to 208, and Knox's bill to repeal the crimes act was read the second time, without division.

A dispatch from Paris says Count Boniface de Castellane and his wife, formerly Miss Annie Gould, have bought a large site at the corner of Avenue de Maillikoff and the Avenue du Bois de Boulogne, paying therefore 700 francs per meter. The Countess de Castellane will carry out the dream of her life; that is, to exactly reproduce the Grand Trianuian at Versailles with immense gardens, for a Paris residence.

To-morrow has been fixed as the time for placing upon the market the new British Columbia loan of £420,000, in three per cent. inscribed stock, redeemable July 1, 1941. The issue price has been fixed at 95. Premier Turner has been in London for some time in connection with this matter.

The Revenue Cutter Grant Leaves to Join the Patrol Fleet.

Port Townsend, May 8.—Orders came from Washington City to-day for the revenue cutter U. S. Grant, after undergoing repairs, to proceed to the north for service in the Behring Sea patrol fleet.

REVOLUTION BREWING.

The Japs Strong Enough to Overturn President Dole.

San Francisco, May 8.—It is probable that the next sixty days will develop some very exciting scenes in Hawaii. Private information recently received by Clarence W. Ashford in this city indicates that several kinds of trouble are gathering around the government of Sanford B. Dole and his colleagues.

The Japanese, who are numerous on the islands, and who at present are feverish and elated over the victory of their mother country in the war with China, threaten to come forward and become serious factors in the government of Hawaii and the adjustment of its affairs. It is known that among the Japanese now on the islands there are several hundred trained soldiers; in fact, there are enough of them to seize control of the government at any time, should they so choose. The natives are restless and dissatisfied, and only await an opportunity to fly into the thick of another insurrection. It is plain, judging from the information received by Mr. Ashford, that the basis of operations in the next outbreak will be the island of Maui.

"I have nothing to do with these operations," said Mr. Ashford, "but as I am known to be an enemy of the Dole crowd and a sympathizer with any movement that will bring about a real republic, a government by the people and for the people of Hawaii, my friends naturally keep me advised of what it is doing. It is my firm belief that Mr. Dole and his fellow officials will not be in office on the first day of next August."

STEADILY GETTING BETTER.

New York, May 4.—Henry Clews' financial review for the week says: The firm, steady and sustained step of the financial interests under the recovery that has been in progress for the last two months conveys a large measure of solid assurance. Throughout, there has been no relapse, no timid frights, no pessimistic misgivings. The attitude of all interests has been such as to suggest a conviction that the country now stands on solid ground, that the depression has not only got past its causes but also beyond its principal effects, and that an exhibition of rational confidence is all that is needed for a common co-operation in the pursuits of business. Some suspicion was excited by the sudden and large rise in certain leading staples of trade, lest it should mean a breaking loose of a purely speculative spirit backed by no conditions in the real state of business. Facts, however, have now proved that the rise was for the most part legitimate and natural. This conclusion is strengthened by evidence that the upward tendency in values is extending to the domestic markets quite generally, and is also taking effect abroad, and by the further circumstance that the rise in wages evidences an increase in the demand for labor. From all these points of view, the indications are clear that we are now fairly on the way towards a real and sustained return to national prosperity. Generally, we start upon this recovery with sounder conditions than those existing when the panic struck us. Credits have been purged; weak spots have been probed and repaired; economies have been introduced; and, taking the country as a whole, it may be claimed that there is no other nation better equipped for the contest of international commercial rivalry.

THE 'FRISCO DOG SHOW.

Plin Monarch, of Victoria, the Best St. Bernard.

San Francisco, May 8.—The fourth annual bench show of the Pacific Kennel club opened to-day with 251 entries. It is pronounced to be the best show ever given by the club, breeders being represented from all over the Pacific coast. St. Bernards are most numerous. The chief dog of this class is Plin Monarch, of Victoria, B. C., whelped August, 1891, sire Casper, dam Lady Scott, and valued at $300. He is the biggest dog in the show. To the fact that St. Bernard clubs have, during the past year, sprung up all over the country, is ascribed the fact that one-sixth of the entries in the entire show are St. Bernards. Prince Othmar is another conspicuous entry, valued at $500. There are some fine dogs among the hounds, including Tasso, a last year's prize winner in the puppy class. Howard Vernon's pointer Glenbeith, whelped 1890, sire Grouse V., dam Rita, is an attractive entry. He is valued at $10,000. Vernon's bitch, Sallie Brass, winner of twelve first prizes since she was whelped in 1888, is also shown, with several of Glenbeigh's puppies. Countess Noble, the English setter matched against Glenbeigh for the next field trials for $500 a side, is exhibited. Lovers of the mastiff miss Gavin McNab's Crown Prince, the finest on the coast. He is represented, however, by a son, Mrs. Towles' Nob. F. P. Muffes' Hector and Charles Dresser's bitch Flouris, a first prize winner, are well mated Great Danes.

NEWFOUNDLAND.

The Union Scheme Has Been Declared Off In the Legislature.

St. Johns, Nfld., May 9.—Prime Minister Whiteway announced that no answer had been received from the Canadian government regarding confederation, therefore the Newfoundland delegates to Ottawa were not ready to present the final terms. He urged a week's adjournment in order to enable the terms to be received. If nothing definite is received by Thursday next, he would, he said, consider the negotiations off and present an alternative scheme, consisting of a reduction of the public expenditures, the curtailment of some grants and the abolition of others, the dismissal of many officials, and increase of the taxes and a revision of the tariff. Premier Whiteway, Minister Morris and Receiver-General Scott announced themselves as being in favor of confederation if the terms allowed by Canada were satisfactory. The colony's finances, they said, would have been much better had it not been for the extravagance of their predecessors in office.

McGREEVYISM IN CHICAGO.

Chicago Has a Scandal a la Curran Bridge.

Chicago, May 10.—Frauds of the grossest nature in the pay roll of the department of public works have been unearthed by Commissioner Kent. Dead men, the commissioner says, have been enrolled as laborers and their names forged. Time check names were also duplicated. Residences were located where there were vacant lots. All the facts are now in the possession of Commissioner Kent and are in course of preparation for submission to the legal department of the city for prosecution. It is estimated that a million dollars have been stolen from the city in this manner.

THE RAILWAY BRIDGE.

To the Editor: At the last meeting of the city council Ald. Wilson asked the question "What is monopoly?" saying further, that "Robt. Dunsmuir died too soon for the good of Victoria, but he left good representatives behind him. What Victoria wants is two or three more such." Ald. Partridge said: "We always did vote $1000 to celebrate the birthday of Her Majesty the Queen, and he would hold up both hands to do the same this year." Permit me to answer Ald. Wilson's question and at the same time point out how the people Ald. Partridge is supposed to represent are affected by the facts of the case. Monopoly is something which obtains a valued concession from our city and agrees in return to build a thoroughfare for the use of both foot passengers and vehicles, and afterwards when the good aldermen dutifully pass a resolution asking the government for more money for the monopoly it charges our poorer citizens 25 cents for the privilege of crossing the bridge to see the celebration they pay a thousand dollars toward promoting. And the representatives of monopoly threaten our corporation with a law suit and mock at our guardians of the peace as "Horatius defending the bridge" should any attempt be made to prevent injustice. Does Victoria really want more of this kind of thing? Of what value is the loyalty of a people to the Queen who are not loyal to themselves, and whose representatives bow in unmanly submission to every wish of those who put upon them such an injustice?

A MARTYR OF SCIENCE.

His Experiments With Electricity and Insect Life Led to Trouble.

The death in her sixty-ninth year of Mrs. Andrew Crosse recalls one of the most curious episodes of scientific progress. She married Mr. Crosse, the well known electrician in 1850, when he was 66 and she was 23. He had been the most abused man of his time, and she published in 1857 a very lively memoir of him. Mr. Crosse first sprang into fame by a paper read at the meeting of the British Association in Bristol in 1837, in which he said he "was looking for a silicious formation, when animal matter appeared instead." In her "History of the Thirty Years' Peace," Miss Martineau thus describes the discovery: "In the midst of elements fatal to animal life, under the surface of a caustic fluid, within an inclosure from which the atmosphere has been driven out, and where there was no possibility that ova could have been deposited, insects appeared after an electric current had been established for a sufficient number of months. Without the electricity and without some other conditions, the insects have failed to appear. With those conditions they have been produced again and again to the present."

Faraday reported in 1837 that he had got similar results, and Mr. Weekes of Sandwich made careful and elaborate experiments which entirely confirmed Mr. Crosse. Hereupon a furious controversy arose. Mr. Crosse, was, as he said, treated with so much virulence on account of these experiments that "it seemed as if it were a crime to have made them." The insects were of the genus Acarus, and he was nick-named "Acarus Crosse." The experiments were, nevertheless, continued thirteen years, always, as he told Harriet Martineau, with the same results. Mr. Crosse himself never ventured to give an opinion as to the cause which produced them, but he was reviled as an assailant of the faith, a claimant of creative power. He was driven by this senseless persecution to live the life of a recluse, but the discussions to which his supposed discovery led resulted in the complete establishment of the fundamental scientific truth that wherever life appears there has been first a germ. Mr. Crosse never pretended to create life. All that he did, as he said in a letter to Miss Martineau, was to urge scientific men to ascertain the truth, which they have done in this matter since his death.

MISSIONARY ANNIVERSARY.

Large Attendance at Last Evening's Meeting in the Metropolitan Church.

Addresses on Domestic and Foreign Missions by Members of the Conference.

A much larger number of people were in attendance at the meeting under the auspices of the Methodist conference last evening. The chair was taken by the Rev. C. Ladner, owing to the engagement of the president in committee work. Rev. George H. Morden led the prayers. A pleasing feature of the meeting was an excellently rendered solo by Mr. Clement Rowlands.

The chairman expressed his regret that the president was obliged to be absent and also his pleasure that interest in the missionary work of the church is rather increasing than declining.

Rev. P. C. Le Harris, B. A., was then introduced and at once warmed to his subject, which was "Domestic Missions." He had studied this question and was disappointed that among the people there is so little intelligence respecting the subject. He had not discovered where the fault lies, unless it be that the people are not as interested as they should be. The question was, how to get the people interested. One of the methods adopted was to send abroad one of the returned missionaries, and these, with the story of their work, their trials and triumphs, reach the centres of population. He himself had listened to some of these and had been thrilled. But after all he thought more real good might be accomplished if some domestic missionaries could be set apart to do this work. The difficulties and perplexities of these is just as great as those of the others, though it had not been properly represented to our people. The crying needs of our domestic work are being heard from the east to the west and some better means need to be devised than have been practiced in the past. Domestic missionaries often have to toil on, often on starvation pittances, and often meet with difficulties that the foreign missionary never has to meet, and he feared that these labors are not appreciated as they should be in comparison with the others. He cited specimen difficulties and stated some plain and unpleasant facts which stare these laborers in the face and criticized the administration of the funds. Saddest of all, many of them are carrying sad hearts and heavy burdens from which their circumstances afford no way of escape. He used a number of large display cards in illustrating his remarks, from which may be quoted the following figures. During the last five years the membership of our church had increased 50 per cent, and during the same time the deficiencies in salaries had increased 250 per cent. The average salaries of 15 married domestic missionaries in B.C. is $560, of nine probationers an average salary of $253. These figures were elaborated and applied, and the speaker earnestly commended these facts to the consideration of his hearers. He wished in conclusion that he could have time to speak on the bright side of the case, but he was obliged to deal with only this side and he hoped the time is not far distant when it would be possible to tell a very different story.

An anthem was sung by the choir and Rev. S. S. Osterhout addressed the audience on the subject of Indian missions. He apologized for the briefness of time at his disposal and felt that his subject was altogether too broad to be dealt with in so brief a space. He could wish, however, that more interest might be manifested in the Indian missions as well as in the domestic. He feared that too often the Indians were looked down upon and the Indian work despised. He knew it was not the case in this conference, but it is so elsewhere. The Indian soul is of as much importance as that of any man and the Indian appreciates as much as anyone the gift of a Saviour. He was pleased to be engaged in Indian work, and he had seen these people stirred by the great truths of the Gospel, and he never could allow himself to feel of such an one that "He's only an Indian." The variety of departments of Indian work were touched upon. First the day school work, and some of the hearers might be startled if told of the progress made by some of these pupils. Some day soon these might be expected to take preparatory work in one of our colleges and even graduate into our ministry. Then there are the Indian homes, where the young taught habits of cleanliness and the secrets of the white man's civilization. There are also the hospitals, where the natives are treated for their various diseases. Here the Indians learn what they never could under other circumstances, such as orderly conduct and submission to discipline, so that the impressions are never effaced from their minds. The responsibilities and peculiarities of the work of a preacher among these people was also described in a very pleasing manner, and the differences between the work of these and the ministers to white men. He thought that our very best men are needed in this very important branch of our church work. He had come to the conclusion that native pride is among the greatest obstacles to the conversion and salvation of the Indian. He got in a good crack at a lawyer, who had defined the word "potlach" in a recent case in our courts. He would define a potlach as the great Diana of the Indians, the great rival of our government, and the stronghold of heathenism. Destroy the potlach and you will obliterate heathenism, for its stronghold will be destroyed. The various evils associated with that practice were briefly described. Coming back to his proposition he said, "pride is the inspiration of the potlach, and thus pride is the evil." He concluded his remarks by reciting the Greek fable, "the Birth of Apollo," and likened the transformation wrought in heathen villages to the change in the island after the birth of Apollo.

It was the first opportunity the conference had of hearing Mr. Osterhout, one of its youngest members, and he made a capital impression.

Mrs. Clement Rowlands sang "I Need Thee Every Hour," and Rev. James Woodsworth addressed the audience for half an hour on the general subject of missions. Mr. Woodsworth is one of the best qualified men in the Methodist connection to give information on the subject, he having been for a number of years superintendent of missions in the Manitoba and Northwest conferences, and had the honor of graduating out of the ranks of domestic missionaries. He chose as his subject, "The principles upon which the work should be prosecuted." Each church should do a certain amount of missionary effort. The first church centering at Jerusalem was to extend until it comprehended the whole world, so "the field is the world." Methodism has a great field even in the Dominion. He explained the comparative importance of domestic and foreign missions. "Destitution of Christian privileges," is one of the conditions which appeal to us in the prosecution of domestic work. The question of multiplying rival denominational services must be decided by local circumstances. On the question of responsibility he said it must be measured by our ability, and the Methodist church's responsibility is limited by the amount of money at the disposal of the missionary society. The relations of the various conferences and the board of missions were clearly defined and he seriously questioned the right of annual conferences to undertake to do more work than it could pay for. He quoted Rev. Dr. Sutherland to show that it had not yet been demonstrated that the starvation plan is a wise one. His definition and criticism of the policy of the church was intensely interesting and practical and he put his hearers in possession of information that will materially benefit both givers and receivers of missionary funds. Though there were difficulties before us he thought he could see a way out of them, and though we had as a church gone into the very first rank as a missionary church, he thought the church could be brought up to even ground. He could not sympathize with a retrograde movement. He cited experiences in the Northwest conferences and commended the principles to the business men of his hearers. When he thought of the great future before Western Canada he felt that the people do not dream of the possibilities that lie within our reach. It is our duty to make provision for the founding of moral institutions. He pointed out the grave importance of providing for and protecting the country in the stream of immigration that is coming into our whole country, and he claimed that no agency was so competent to cope with so serious a question as the church of God. He made a strong plea for the consecration of one-tenth of our incomes for Christian and religious purposes. The missionary church would be a prosperous church. Quoting the proverb, "There is that scattereth and yet increaseth," and said it is an illustration of the mathematical principles on which God deals with one. He adds to what they supply, multiplies what they divide and increases by contribution what they decrease by distribution.

No one who heard him will forget the speaker's stirring remarks.

AN AUTOMATIC STEERSMAN.

Device for Overcoming the Errors of Manual Steering.

An automatic helmsman, or application of electricity to the direction of the course of a vessel, is described in a French electrical journal, says the Railway Review. It is operated by an attachment to the compass. The errors in manual steering are stated to be seldom less than one or two degrees, corresponding with an error of nearly twelve miles laterally in a day's sailing. With the automatic method greater accuracy is said to be possible. The standard compass is used, and a current from a Ruhmkorff coil is passed from the pivot of the needle to the north pole extremity, whence sparks of three millimeters length pass to one of two semicircular pieces of aluminum, insulated from each other, the gap between them being set to the desired sailing direction. When the spark passes to one of these the current, by means of a relay, starts a motor in one direction, which in turn operates the rudder, while if the spark passes to the other piece, it moves the rudder in the other direction. The apparatus has been in use for two months on a steamer, and it operated very successfully. An additional device is mentioned in which the record is automatically kept.

WILD ANIMALS AT SEA.

A Lively Squall Starts a Big Commotion Among Them.

The Hamburg-American line steamer Prussia, which arrived here last Saturday from Hamburg, brought one of the largest consignments of wild animals that has been brought to this city on one vessel for many years. They were shipped to William Bartels, and were taken from the Prussia and conveyed to Mr. Bartel's establishment, at No. 100 Greenwich street, says the New York Herald.

The collection consisted of two dromedaries, two hyenas, three leopards, four seals, two immense pythons, thirty-two monkeys, two small lions, and a big Bengal tiger. Mr. Bartels is a dealer in animals of all kinds. His place in Greenwich street was yesterday the scene of much excitement, and the noise made by the animals as they were being transferred to the store attracted a large crowd.

The Prussia sailed from Hamburg on April 7th. She had also aboard thirty-one cabin and 152 steerage passengers. During the first few days out mild weather prevailed and the animals, which were confined in a compartment in the hold, behaved themselves well. But on the fourth day a stiff squall struck the vessel, kicking up a lively sea, which caused the ship to roll and pitch considerably. The animals were tossed about in their cages and raised such a commotion that many of the steerage passengers feared they had broken loose and were seeking a more substantial diet than had been provided them by their keepers.

One of the monkeys caught a severe cold during the voyage, and notwithstanding all that the ship's doctor could do for it, died of hasty consumption last Thursday. The major part of the monkeys are termed "pig tails," because of their peculiarly short tails. Some of them came from Africa and some from Arabia. The two pythons have very small heads and immense bodies, measuring twelve feet or more in length.

There are in Mr. Bartel's place 700 gold fish, which were brought here recently on the steamer Oldenburg from Bremen; also a collection of 2500 canaries and 500 small parrots. Of the animals that came on the Prussia, the tiger is to go to Cincinnati, where it will take the place in the zoological gardens there of one that died lately. The rest are to be shipped to various parts of the country.

A Humorous Fact

About Hood's Sarsaparilla—it expels bad humor and creates good humor. A battle for blood is what Hood's Sarsaparilla vigorously fights, and is always victorious in expelling foul taints and giving the vital fluid the quality and quantity of perfect health. It cures scrofula, salt rheum, boils and other blood diseases.

THE SCHOOL QUESTION.

At the instance of the Greenway government the Manitoba legislature has further adjourned until June 13th its sitting for the consideration of the school question. The plea of the government was that further time is necessary, and Attorney-General Sifton particularized by saying that "the remedial order as submitted by the Dominion government involved a return to the old system, and this they did not propose to do. There were also a great many other phases of the question, and further time must be taken for consideration." It is interesting to compare this announcement of Mr. Sifton's with the utterances of Archbishop Langevin, of St. Boniface, in an address lately delivered at the seminary in Montreal. The Archbishop said:

"We will try to crush under foot the iniquitous law which has sought to deprive us of our rights. We will not accept half measures. We will maintain and exact the liberties to which we are entitled under the British flag. We are not slaves, nor are we the sons of slaves, and our fathers never wore the yoke. They were vanquished, but they were not conquered. The Catholics of Manitoba will never consent to accept crumbs in matters of education while the Protestants of Quebec are seated at the banquet table. No, never. I belong to no political party, and I want peace in this country. The school question, I declare, is not a political one and we may well appeal to all well-thinking men to uphold our rights. I do not now appeal merely to the justice of the men of Quebec, but to the citizens of every province in the confederation; to all who want justice to prevail and peace to be maintained in their country. Your presence and applause will encourage us to keep up the fight in the interests of the people of this country, which we all know has a great future before it. Sparta had no stone walls, but it could point to the serried ranks of its young men. Montreal is in the same position to-day and the sympathy of its young men will help the cause of education in Manitoba. The ties binding the far west to the good old province of Quebec are stronger than ever. Ultimately justice and right will triumph and then your brothers of Red River and Saskatchewan will be happy in the enjoyment of liberty and institutions similar to those of Quebec will be flourishing."

The attorney-general, speaking on behalf of the government, says there will not be a return to the old system, as required by the remedial order. The Archbishop, speaking for the church, says nothing else will be accepted. It seems plain that the two parties have taken up irreconcilable attitudes and are likely to maintain them. The question must therefore of necessity come up in the Dominion parliament.

ATTEMPT TO MUZZLE THE COLUMBIAN.

The New Westminster Columbian has been threatened with an action for libel by Mr. James Fitzsimmons, the deputy warden of the penitentiary, whose reinstatement after suspension, or dismissal, has caused general disgust in the province. To use a fitting if inelegant expression, Fitzsimmons has a great deal of "gall." The Columbian does not seem to be very much scared by the threat, and promises to make the trial, if the threat should ever be carried that far, quite as interesting for the deputy warden as the investigation that led to his suspension. Our contemporary says:

"While we are sorry, on Mr. Fitzsimmons' account (against whom we entertain no personal feelings of any kind), that he has decided to subject himself to the painful ordeal of an open trial in court—besides which the comparatively sequestered inquisition of the royal commission will be felt to be a very mild purgatory indeed—we cannot but rejoice, as a public journal, conducted in the public interest, that we are to have such an unexampled opportunity as Mr. Fitzsimmons proposes to give us to thoroughly ventilate and expose the scandalous "job" of his reinstatement, and all the actors ("high, low, jack and the game") in it. We promise that the exposure shall be made as exhaustive and interesting as possible; and, while we have founded our strictures chiefly upon evidence produced at the royal commission—which was sufficiently sensational and damning to satisfy the most exacting—new fields can be explored at an open trial, which will yield disclosures that will not detract from the interest of the investigation or lessen the condemnation of the chief actors in the whole scandalous affair. In case Mr. Fitzsimmons or his solicitor should have any doubts about our address, we are still doing business at the old stand."

CUSTOMS TAXATION.

The News-Advertiser has been looking into the Dominion public accounts and Mr. Foster's statements, and comes to some very sage conclusions. One is that the deficits of the past and current years are due to diminished customs receipts—a conclusion that nobody has ever thought of disputing. Another of its discoveries the News-Advertiser puts in this way:

"Nor would the reduction in the amount of the imports, due to the general depression and the economies which are being practised by the people, have caused a deficit had the scale of duties remained at what it was previous to the fiscal year 1892-3. A reference to one single article of import will prove this. In 1891, before the reduction of the duty on sugar, the revenue from that alone was the large sum of $2,984,747. In 1894 the revenue on sugar only amounted to $22,230, so that nearly three millions of dollars were saved to the consumers and, of course, lost to the federal treasury."

We may be allowed to point out that the deficit for this year is $4,500,000 as per Mr. Foster's estimate, leaving a margin of a million and a half unaccounted for by the removal of the sugar duties. But that is only by the way. The News-Advertiser continues:

"The simple facts, which cannot be controverted, show that the deficits of the present government—which, by the way, have been in the aggregate much less in amount than the surpluses—have been caused by the lightening of taxation. Mr. Foster has pointed out that while the Liberals were in office the repeated deficits which Sir Richard Cartwright had in his financial arrangements, were accompanied by increased taxation and the member for South Oxford has not been able, with all his ingenuity, to disprove that statement."

This suggests a comparison of the customs taxation of 1878 and that of 1894—and for this purpose we shall take our Conservative friends on their own chosen ground. They insist that the percentage of customs taxation shall be calculated on the whole amount of importations, not on the dutiable goods alone. According to the trade and navigation tables that percentage in 1878 was 14.03 and in 1894 it was 17.13. If the latter rate had been imposed in 1878 the customs revenue would have been about $2,800,000 greater than it was, and there would have been a surplus instead of a deficit. The Mackenzie government could have "made ends meet" by imposing an extra three per cent. of customs taxes, but they preferred to try and balance the finances by keeping down the expenses. The Conservative ministers have put on more than three per cent., yet the income still fell short last year by $1,200,000 and this year will be $4,500,000 too small to meet the expenditure. So another increase of one or one and a half per cent. is to be made. Our Conservative friends are hardly wise in provoking such comparisons.

Montreal Herald: It is learned that despite the bad year the Dominion Cotton Company earned, net, no less than $320,000, or 10¾ per cent., on the full capital of $3,000,000. When it is remembered that at least one half of this capital was water it will be seen that the actual earnings of the company were nearer 25 per cent. on the actual capital than 10¾. Still the cry that our infant industries must be protected is heard. This infant is, from all appearances, able now to stand and walk alone, and should be weaned. It will be seen from this statement that the reduction in wages made by the combine last year was merely done for effect, to make it appear that the company were in a poor way, and could not exist with less protection. The day of reckoning is coming, however.

During the session of 1891 Hon. L. H. Davies (opposition) moved the following resolution: "Inasmuch as Great Britain admits the products of Canada into her ports free of duty, this house is of the opinion that the present scale of duties exacted on goods mainly imported from Great Britain should be reduced." Needless to say the Old Flaggers voted it down.

POLITICAL POINTERS.

The following is from the Quebec Chronicle (Tory) of a recent date:

"The Hon. Thomas McGreevy, M. P., left here yesterday afternoon by steamer for Montreal. The boat was gaily decorated with flags in honor of the new member, who was also saluted by rockets and cannon shots from the various wharves up the Coves along the river front. The steamer's whistle responded, and the salute was repeated from the various tugs and other river crafts in the harbor.

Attorney-General Blair, of New Brunswick, was at Montreal recently, and in an interview, as to the Liberal prospects in his province, said:

"There is no question about the fact that our people are a unit in demanding freer trade relations with the United States. On the trade question the Liberals will sweep the province. A general election fought out on the basis of the trade question, and barring side issues, will undoubtedly result in an overwhelming majority for Mr. Laurier."

Bye election results:—

L'Islet.—Desjardins, Conservative, elected at general elections by 6 majority; Tarte, Opposition, elected at bye-election by 36 majority.

Richelieu.—Langevin, Conservative, elected at general elections by 308 majority; Bruneau, Liberal, elected at bye-election by 72 majority.

Winnipeg.—Macdonald, Conservative, elected at general elections by 509 majority; Martin, Liberal, elected at bye-election by 425 majority.

Antigonish.—Sir John Thompson, Conservative, elected at general elections by 227 majority; McIsaac, Liberal, elected at bye-election by 120 majority.

Montreal Witness: The Protectionists have discarded the Union Jack as a party badge, and we hear nothing about 'a British subject I was born and a British subject I will die,' a sentiment altogether too good to prostitute to ignoble and selfish purposes. Now they represent England as poverty stricken and in distress and as being swallowed by the alligator of hunger and want.

It was announced that the British revenue for the year ended March 31st last, amounted to £101,697,304, an increase of £3,399,942 as compared with the preceding year. This was an interesting statement for more reasons than one. When the United States government collects and spends half a billion dollars in one year, there is a loud outcry of extravagance. The population of the United States in the census year 1890, was 62,622,250, and the estimated population at January 1, 1895, was 69,000,000. The population of Great Britain in the census year 1891 was 38,104,973, including men in the army and navy and merchant seamen abroad. We sometimes read that it would be impossible for Canada to collect a sufficient revenue without a protective tariff, yet we see by these figures that the 38,000,000 of British people pay half a billion dollars without as much complaint as is made by the 62 million of protected Americans when they are called upon to contribute their half billion. Raising revenue under free trade cannot be such a difficult matter after all. —Halifax Recorder.

THE CANADIAN MAGAZINE.

The May number of the Canadian Magazine, the first of the fifth volume, is replete with most interesting matter. The illustrations are good and altogether the number compares well in interest and variety with any of the magazines of the month. The illustrated articles are "Glimpses of Norway," by Frank Yeigh; "The House of the Ouananiche," by E. T. D. Chambers; "The Underground railway and one of its Operators," by Thos. E. Champion; and the "Ontario Ladies' College," Whitby, by Rev. J. F. German. Edward Meek contributes a clear, valuable and timely article on "The Manitoba School Question and the Remedial Order." Henry Fry, ex-president of the Dominion Board, tells of the past history of shipbuilding in Quebec city, and urges the advantages of that city for steel shipbuilding. Other articles are "The Penalties of Genius," by B. St. George Lefroy; J. W. L. Foster's "Early Artists of Ontario"; "Robert Louis Stevenson," by Hector Charlesworth; and "Canadian Newspaper Interviews," by P. Spaanjaardt. J. NANAIMO NEWS.

Solid Liberal Association Formed at the Coal City.

Nanaimo, May 10.—It is not generally known that the Reform Club has ceased to exist, and out of its demise has sprung a more solid Liberal association. It was deemed advisable to make a change for the future benefit of a good cause, and this was not possible under the constitution of the above club. The new association starts out with a large membership, and to make it solid some of the most prominent business men of the city are at the head of affairs. There is no intention on the part of the Liberals to allow this constituency to go by default, and at the proper time a candidate will be brought forward.

The firemen's contest on the 24th of May will not take place on the old course on Commercial street, as the filling in of the bridge will not be completed by that time. Front street offers the best ground for the purpose, and besides it will be the means of concentrating the sports for the day.

Through the kindness of the V. C. C., a cricket ground has been temporarily arranged on what is known as Ramsey's swamp, pending the completion of the Athletic grounds out on the "Five Acre" blocks.

THE COSMOPOLITAN.

The handsome and popular Cosmopolitan magazine keeps up to its high standard in the May number. Frank Vincent's description of Samarkand and Bokhara takes the reader into places which are widely known by name but have had few visitors from Europe and America. "Sixteen Hundred Miles of Mountain Railways" is an interesting chapter in J. B. Walker's description of the great railway system of the United States. Mr. Hutchinson's paper on bee-keeping is a charming contribution to the literature of the honey-gatherer and should prove instructive to the apiarist. Esther Singleton writes pleasingly of the "Ceremonial Dishes of England." "Saleswomen in the Great Stores," by Mary P. Whiteman, gives an insight into an interesting phase of life in New York, and is profusely illustrated with portraits of attractive saleswomen. In fact the illustrations in this number are particularly worthy of notice, including the reproductions of recent works of art. W. Clark Russel's "Three-Stranded Yarn" moves along to an exciting crisis, and there is the usual quantity of general literature, poetry and departmental reviews.

None But Ayer's at the World's Fair.

Ayer's Sarsaparilla enjoys the extraordinary distinction of having been the only blood purifier allowed an exhibit at the World's fair, Chicago. Manufacturers of other sarsaparillas sought by every means to obtain a showing of their goods, but they were all turned away under the application of the rule forbidding the entry of patent medicines and nostrums. The decision of the World's fair authorities in favor of Ayer's Sarsaparilla was in effect as follows: "Ayer's Sarsaparilla is not a patent medicine. It does not belong to the list of nostrums. It is here on its merits."

Rapalisty was charged with being the agency through which Billy secured the liquor. He pleaded not guilty and with his lawyer, J. A. Aikman, announced his intention to fight the case. After a couple of hours occupied in examining witnesses, the case was remanded until tomorrow, when further evidence will be introduced.

—Charley, the West Coast Indian shot in July, 1891, by Jailer Allen, while attempting to escape from the city lockup, died three days ago at Carmanah Point and was buried by Lighthouse Keeper Daykin, all the Indian men being away sealing and fishing. When shot by Jailer Allen Charley was running down Cormorant street, having escaped from the jail yard, around which there was no fence at that time. The ball entered the thigh. The doctors did all they could for the wounded man, but he was so badly diseased that their skill availed little. After being treated at the Jubilee Hospital he was taken home by his friends and has ever since been in a precarious condition. Jailer Allen was committed for trial, but the case was never proceeded with, it being the general opinion that he simply did his duty.

—Although nothing has yet been heard of the overdue missionary steamer Glad Tidings, those who have friends on board are not feeling as uneasy as they were yesterday, as it is thought almost certain that they will be down on the Danube, due from the north this evening. If they do not come on the Danube a steamer will be sent up for them, the committee appointed by the conference to take what steps they thought necessary in the matter having telegraphed to Rev. Sutherland, missionary secretary at Toronto, to urge the Dominion government to charter a steamer, the Quadra now being busy. It was learned to-day that before leaving Port Simpson part of the little steamer's machinery was broken and patched up by Captain Oliver. It is probable the machinery again gave out, making it necessary to put into some bay for repairs. However, a very few hours will settle the matter, the Danube being almost sure to have some news of her.

LAW INTELLIGENCE.

An Appeal Involving the Validity of a Garnishee Action.

An appeal was heard to-day before the chief justice and Mr. Justice Drake in the suit of Nicholles & Renouf vs. Fullerton & Williams, and C. J. V. Spratt, garnishee. The appeal lies from the judgment of Mr. Justice Crease rendered at the last sitting of the county court, whereby he directed that judgment be entered against the garnishee for the sum of $331.32. This action was brought by the plaintiffs against the defendants for the sum of $331.32, and at the same time obtained a garnishee summons attaching moneys in the hands of the garnishee to the said amount. The plaintiffs obtained judgment by default against the defendant Fullerton, but not as against Williams. The garnishee summons was heard last county court before Mr. Justice Crease, when counsel for the garnishee asked that he may be at liberty to defend, as there was no debt due by the garnishee to the defendant, and until judgment was obtained against both defendants there was no debt (if any) liable to be attached. His lordship, in view of above facts, gave judgment for the plaintiffs against the garnishee for the sum of $331.32, on the ground that he had not filed a dispute note in accordance with the act. It is from this judgment that the garnishee appealed. Mr. Belyea, counsel for the respondent, raised the preliminary objection that the garnishee had no right of appeal to the supreme court under certain sections of the county court act, for no relief or right of appeal was given to garnishees, and also that if he had any right it was merely by applying to a judge of the court, as if judgment had been obtained by default. Mr. Jay, counsel for the appellant, contended that the judgment against the garnishee was not a judgment by default, as the garnishee was represented at the hearing of the summons when there was shown sufficient defence on the merits. The court, however, reserved its decision and expressed the opinion that the garnishee could only apply to a judge for leave to defend, but gave no decision as to whether he had a right to appeal or not. The costs were also reserved.

The divisional court yesterday, consisting of Justices Crease and McCreight, allowed the plaintiff's appeal in Boscowitz vs. Cooper and Warren. The appeal was from an order of Mr. Justice Drake, who dismissed the action for want of prosecution. This action is one brought against the defendants to recover the sum of $65,000. Gordon Hunter for the appeal and W. J. Taylor contra.

SWISS WATCHES.

How Boys Are Instructed in the Methods of Manufacture.

The famous Swiss schools are said to be the most exacting institutions in the world. Their methods, which are doubtless the secret of their success, will be found very curious and interesting. In one of the most celebrated of these institutions in Geneva, for example, a boy must first of all be at least fourteen years of age in order to enter. After being admitted, the student is first introduced to a wood turning lathe, and put to work at turning tool handles. This exercise lasts for several weeks, according to the beginner's aptitude. This is followed by exercises in filing, and shaping screw drivers and small tools.

In this way he learns to make for himself a fairly complete set of tools. He next undertakes to make a larger wooden pattern of a watch frame, perhaps a foot in diameter, and after learning how this frame is to be shaped, he is given a ready cut one of brass of the ordinary size, in which he is taught to drill holes for the wheels and screws. Throughout this instruction the master stands over the pupil directing him with the greatest care.

The Geo. E. Tuckett & Son Co., Ltd., Hamilton, Ont.

The pupil is next taught to finish the frame, so that it will be ready to receive the wheels. He is then instructed to make fine tools and to become expert in handling them. This completes the instruction in the first room, and the young watchmaker next passes to the department where he is taught to fit the stem winding parts and to do fine cutting and filing by hand. Later on he learns to make the more complex watches which will strike the hour, minute, etc., and the other delicate mechanisms for which the Swiss watches are famous.—Scientific American.

THE COCHINEAL CROP.

A Singular Insect, With Carmine Bodily Juices.

The cochineal insect is a fat, dark, spherical little creature, looking like a black currant, and with neither head, legs nor tail to the casual observer. In fact, he is so inanimate that anyone may squash him between the finger and thumb without any qualms of conscience. He is nothing but black currant, sure enough, though the bright carmine or lake exudion from his body, which serves him for blood and us for dye, is a better color than the juice of the currant.

It was the cultivation of these pleasant little individuals which, more than a score of years ago, put no less than 40 per cent. per annum upon investments into the pockets of the cultivator. Such prosperity was too good to last.

The insect was not introduced into Teneriffe until 1825, and for a time it could not be encouraged to propagate successfully.

A priest had the honor of being the discoverer of the right method of nurture, and to him it is due that from 1845 to 1865 an annual crop of from 2,000,000 to 6,000,000 pounds of cochineal was produced.

A cochineal plantation has a singular aspect. The larvae, being delicate and rather thick-witted, have to be tied upon the cactus plant, which is to be their nursery and their nourishment at the same time. Thus one sees hundreds of the sheets of the prickly pear—the cactus in question—all bandaged with white linen.

In this way the insects are kept warm and dry during the winter and induced to adhere to the plant itself. When they are full grown they are ruthlessly swept from their prickly quarters, shaken or baked to death and dried in the sun. The shriveled corpses are then packed in bags and sold as ripe merchandise at about $25 a hundredweight.—Pearson's Weekly.

PECULIAR FOX HUNT.

A Young Man With a Taste for Sport Would not be Disappointed.

A certain young man living on the outskirts of the city was given a young fox not long ago. The young man is fond of sport of any kind, and is especially fond of a fox hunt. He keeps six elegant fox hounds. He conceived the idea of having a fox chase with his fox for the object, and he caged the sly little animal and commenced to fatten him. He invited a number of friends to the fox chase, which was to have occurred last Saturday. The young man and his guests were looking forward with eager anticipation to a rare piece of sport. They had made all their arrangements, but last Saturday one week ago the little fox died.

The young man was sadly disappointed, but after thinking over the matter he determined that he would not miss his sport entirely. He had a negro boy skin the fox and tie the hide to a strand of rope. Early Sunday morning he sent the negro out to the place just beyond the city limits where he kept his hounds. The negro carried the hide with him.

A few minutes later, in the early dawn of the morning, the negro might have been seen walking along the sidewalk toward the city, dragging a fox skin on the ground behind him. He passed four churches en route, and marched slowly around each, still dragging the hide. He continued his journey until he reached the home of the young man. He walked up the steps and straight through the hallway. He went into the back yard and securely stuffed the hide into the kennel.

Just after the Sunday school hour people in that quiet suburb were startled at the sound of six yelping fox hounds, dashing along the sidewalk for dear life. They moved like lightning, sweeping along the sidewalk regardless of the people. Reaching the first church, they circled it, barking loudly. The Sunday school classes were reciting, but as the deafening din of the yelping hounds filled the room, every child forgot his lesson and several jumped to their feet to find out what the trouble was. Even the teachers were excited, and every eye was turned to the windows. Meantime the hounds swept on. At the other churches the same thing was repeated, and the Sunday schools came near being broken up. At two of the churches the teachers instructed the children to recite the same lesson the following Sunday.

The dogs continued their onward dash. The young man was seated quietly at home reading the morning paper. His father, a veteran sportsman, heard the sound and gave a war whoop. He dashed out into the yard to see the chase. A minute later the hounds came in full tilt. They dashed across the threshold, the old man after them, yelling. The cook, who had rushed out in alarm, was upset in the hallway. All the servants and the young man were required to stop the yelling hounds when they reached the kennel. All the Sunday services in this particular locality were broken up for the day.—Atlanta Constitution.

FORMOSA'S RESOURCES.

One Rich Island Japan Is Adding to Her Territory.

The Chicago Times-Herald says: "Formosa is about 90 miles east of the southern central part of China, opposite the cities of Amoy and Swatow, says the New York World. It is separated from China by the Formosa canal, through which the Pacific Mail steamships pass, going between Yokohama and Hongkong. The channel is favorably located for the typhoon. The island is about 240 miles long, with an average width of about 70 miles. A chain of mountains stretches north and south through the middle. Many of these mountains are volcanic. Along the entire western coast are enormous towns, inhabited principally by Chinese, who have emigrated from Amoy, Swatow and other places in the province of Fo-Kien, under which government it is. The population of Formosa is estimated at about 2,000,000 by the Chinese, but that undoubtedly is an overestimate. The principal traders, aside from the wealthy Chinese tea dealers, are English commission and shipping merchants and Parsee merchants, who export tea, camphor, sugar, drugs, rice, jute and hemp, and import opium, cheap cotton goods, etc.

"The eastern coast is almost entirely inhabited by aboriginal savages, wholly unlike the Chinese. They have coarse, black hair, which is cut squarely across at the neck. They are large, erect, and resemble North American Indians much more than their Chinese neighbors. They still indulge in tatooing to a large extent. The chief city on the western coast is Kelung, at the northern extremity, very important in consequence of its coal mines and a valuable coaling station. The export of coal from Kelung probably reaches 75,000 tons a year. Tamgin, the next city in the northern part, is on the western coast, a few miles from the extremity of the Tamsin river. Its principal article of export is tea, of which over 20,000,000 pounds is shipped a year. This tea has a flavor different from any in China. It is very popular in the United States, which country takes over three-quarters of its product. The crop is shipped between April and November to Amoy, where it is sold to commission merchants, matted and faced, and shipped per Suez steamships to England and America via Pacific Mail steamers to San Francisco from Hongkong. Formosa tea has almost entirely superseded the Amoy tea, so largely exported twenty years ago.

"In 1884, during the Tonquin war, the French fleet attempted to capture Tamsin, but, notwithstanding the poor fortifications, the warships Triumphant and Tourville were forced, in consequence of the shallow water in the harbor, to withdraw. Sailing north to Kelung, they captured that port and marched their marines south upon the tea plantations in the neighborhood of Tamsin, threatening to stop the tea export that season, but at about that date the war was ended. Further south, on the western coast, the next most important cities are Tinwanfoo and Takao, from which port the principal articles of export are sugar, camphor, cinnamon, pepper, drugs, etc. The finest oranges, pineapples, grapes, cocoanuts and tobacco are extensively grown in this locality, and together with rice, maize, indigo, jute, hemp, and many other products, are shipped to the China coast. Japan has evidently long desired a foothold on Formosa. In 1874, upon some pretext, she landed several thousand soldiers on the east coast, and after punishing the natives for some slight or imaginary grievance, attempted to settle that section. This almost led to war with China.

"The savages of the island, divided into small tribes, are continually at war with each other. They regard the Chinese as intruders, and the country abounds in fine game, including bears, deer, wild boars, goats, monkeys, panthers, wild-cats, pheasants, ducks, geese, and snipe. Cows are harnessed and used in the fields for plowing. At South Cape the products and exports amount to little in comparison with the ports further north. The forts are not strong, and the soldiers are, like many in China, poorly clothed, drilled and equipped. The gunboats, of European build, are fast, but not of very heavy armour. The marines are well equipped, well drilled and excellent marksmen. The vegetation of the island is wonderful. The tree ferns and palms are the most beautiful in the world. The rivers and coast are alive with excellent fish. The bark Spartan, Captain John P. Crossley, from New York, bound for Honolulu, found herself in 1884 on the east coast of Formosa. Capt. Crossley sent a small boat ashore to learn his exact whereabouts, the mate (Captain Crossley's son) and two seamen. After reaching shore they were never heard from. Probably they were captured by the natives. The United States having no man-of-war within hundreds of miles, the coast steamer China was sent in search of the party, and, after spending considerable time, gave up the search without success."

STRENGTH OF WOOD.

The Result of Tests Applied to Different Timbers.

As a result of nearly forty thousand tests of timber made at the laboratory of the Washington University of St. Louis, under the direction of the forestry division of the department of agriculture, says Railway Engineering and Mechanics, the following facts have been determined: Seasoned timber is about twice as strong as green timber, but well seasoned timber loses its strength with the absorption of moisture; timbers of large sections have equal strength per square inch with small ones when they are equally free from blemish; knots are as great a source of weakness in a column as in a beam; long-leafed pine is stronger than the average oak, and bleeding timber does not impair its qualities. It is stated that a large amount of chestnut felled in Alabama for the tan bark was allowed to rot because its value for railroad ties was not known. The division of forestry called attention to the superiority of this timber for ties, and the wood is now so utilized, with a saving to that region alone of nearly $50,000 per year.

REMEDIAL LEGISLATION.

Another Adjournment Necessary in Order to Further Consider the Matter.

The H. B. R. People Claim That the Order-in-Council Will Pass Both Houses.

Winnipeg, May 9.—The battle now waging over separate schools is to be further continued. Upon the re-assembling of the Manitoba legislature to-day, Premier Greenway rose in his place and said: "Before proceeding to the orders of the day I desire to say this: When asking the house to adjourn until the present date, it will be within the recollection of the members that I stated, in view of the gravity of the question involved in the communication from Ottawa, that we would require sufficient time to consider the same. I am now about to ask the house to order a further adjournment till June 13 next, in order that further consideration may be had. I am aware in making the motion that the house do now adjourn, that I am asking the indulgence of the house, because in making the motion it would be required, if my honorable friends opposite insisted, that I should give notice. As it is not the intention to proceed with other business till this matter is disposed of I now desire to move that the house do adjourn to Thursday, June 13."

No sooner had the premier taken his seat than A. F. Martin, leader of the opposition, was on his feet and for two hours he spoke in opposition to the premier's motion to adjourn. He claimed it was the duty of the government to at once decide upon the school matter. He was himself a Catholic and represented his co-religionists there. The delay was simply a move to shelve the responsibility upon other shoulders, and he strongly protested against such tactics. Mr. Martin continued speaking until 6 p.m. Premier Greenway then asked him to move the adjournment of the debate 'till the evening, to which Mr. Martin assented, and the house adjourned.

At the evening session Mr. Martin continued his speech, and was followed by Mr. Prendergast, who regretted the government had found it necessary to take a further adjournment.

Attorney-General Sifton said the remedial order as submitted by the Dominion government involved a return to the old system, and this they did not propose to do. There were also a great many other phases of the question, and further time must be taken for consideration.

The question was then put: "Shall the rules be suspended?" There was no dissenting voice, and the legislature was declared adjourned to June 13.

The Brandon Presbyterians have decided unanimously to extend a call to Rev. E. A. Henry, of Knox College, to accept the pastorate of the church.

Contractor D. Grant, one of the Hudson Bay railway promoters, returned last evening from north of Portage la Prairie. He states that the surveyors are making excellent progress and the route will be mapped out earlier than had been anticipated. Right of way agent Conklin expects to leave for the West at once.

Senator Kirchoffer, who was in the city en route to Brandon, had an extended interview with President Sutherland. Mr. Kirchoffer says the Hudson Bay order-in-council will pass both houses despite opposition from both political parties.

Rev. James W. Pedley, of Vancouver, and brother of Rev. H. Pedley, of this city, passed through Winnipeg to-day en route to Montreal, having been invited to preach in Emmanuel church there.

At Portage la Prairie jail yesterday Fred Lodge, of McGregor, charged with attempted rape on an eight-year-old girl and sentenced to twenty-three months at hard labor and twelve lashes, was strapped to a triangle and flogged in the presence of the officials and prisoners. The prisoner broke down and howled with pain, although his back was not sufficiently cut to cause loss of blood.

NEWMARKET RACE TRACK.

Twenty-Nine Different Courses—Diagram of Place.

The Newmarket track is about forty-six miles from London and three miles on the Cambridge road from the town whose name it bears. There are training grounds apart from the track proper, which is only used for the actual racing. These training grounds are very fine, being fitted with a walking ring and a tan-bark galloping track, besides a speeding course. Every horse using the grounds must pay an annual tax of seven guineas. Unlike the American tracks, stabling and quarters for the trainers, jockeys, etc., must be paid for. There are 29 different courses on the Newmarket track, ranging in distance all the way from the Beacon course of four miles one furlong and 177 yards to the Chesterfield course of five furlongs. From this it can be seen that there are comparatively few sprint races, and that the majority of them try the staying powers of the competing thoroughbreds. The accompanying chart shows the plan of the Newmarket track and also the main courses. Each of these courses is subdivided into a number of smaller courses.

ENGLAND AND FRANCE.

Naval Representatives of the Two Countries Fraternize at Havre.

The visit to Havre of President Faure was the occasion of a display of good fellowship between the naval forces of the two countries. H. M. S. Australia, which had been sent by the Government to salute M. Faure, arrived on Saturday. The cruiser Jean Bart awaited her arrival, and a great crowd had assembled on the jetty. As she entered the port at noon the Australia fired a salute of 21 guns, and this was acknowledged from the shore. All the local authorities, the officers of the garrison and the British Consul were present. The Semaphore, brilliantly decked out and flying the English flag, saluted the English cruiser as she passed the jetty, and the cruiser replied.

Consul Bernal, Captain Dyke Acland and the officers of the Australia were invited to a wine party by the French military and naval officers at Havre. The utmost cordiality was shown on both sides. Colonel Thibon, commandant of Havre, presided. In giving the healths of the Queen and President Faure, he spoke of the visit of the Australia as a mark of respect calculated to tighten the bonds of friendship between the two nations. The garrison, he said, had embraced this opportunity of addressing its respectful homage to Queen Victoria and of showing its admiration and esteem for the officers of the English navy and its appreciation of the great urbanity of Captain Dyke Acland. Mr. Bernal, in responding, expressed the gratification of the officers of the Australia at their cordial reception by the French officers, the authorities and the inhabitants generally. Wherever the English officers had met French comrades they had found generous and chivalrous hearts. He hoped that in the relations between the two countries there would always be displayed an emulation in courtesy and friendship. The French military band then played "God save the Queen," the whole company rising, the English officers bareheaded, and every French officer holding his hand to his cap. On the English guest leaving the cafe the band played the "Marseillaise." The French officers and their families were invited to a ball at night on board the Australia.

The French non-commissioned officers also gave a wine party at the barracks to their English comrades, and at night there were many groups in the streets of English and French arm in arm and singing the "Marseillaise."

HEAD OFFICE, - VICTORIA, B. C.

Capital $50,0000, in 10,000 Shares of $5 each

This Company has been formed for the purpose of manufacturing a high grade of Fish Guano for exportation, also oil and other by-products.

A careful and thorough investigation of the supply of fish suitable for that purpose has demonstrated that exceptional facilities exist for this industry in British Columbia.

It is proposed to locate the factory at Quatsino Sound, it possessing the requisite qualification.

A conservative and authentic estimate is given to illustrate the profitable nature of the undertaking, based upon prices paid by other companies engaged in oil making.

The price of Guano is fixed, the oil is given a nominal rate, but arrangements will be made in Hamburg, which will probably give 100 per cent. above the rate given.

Average cost of Dogfish each .....1 cent.
Average weight of Dogfish .....10 lbs.
Average 12 fish give .....1 gallon oil.
Therefore—
1,000,000 fish give .....5,000 tons fish.
1,000,000 fish give .....83,333 gallons, oil.
5,000 tons fish give .....1,250 tons guano.

Dr.
1,000,000 fish cost	$10,000 00
Annual Expenses (wages, etc.)	12,000 00
	$22,000 00
Cr.
1,250 tons guano, delivered in Honolulu, will net $20 per ton of 2,000 lbs.	$25,000
83,333 gallons oil, say 15c.	12,000
	$37,000

Showing a credit balance of $15,000 for the year's work.

A factory suitable for that amount of material will cost $12,000; this includes all plant and paraphernalia.

Arrangements have been made by the promoters for the sale of the Guano in Honolulu at $20 per ton of 2,000 lbs., on the basis of 17 per cent. ammonia; higher and lower grades in ratio.

The nature of the industry, the inexhaustible supply of fish, and the available and steady market, permits of its continuous operation during the whole year.

The promoter to receive two thousand shares of fully paid up stock as remuneration for his services, and he agrees to undertake the management of the works.

All expenses, legal and otherwise, for this Company's formation, to be paid from the Company's funds.

Shares, $1 on application; $1.50 on allotment; balance, if required, at the rate of $0.50 per month, after three months' notice has been given.

Applications for shares will be received at the office of Sheddon, Goward & Co., 16 Trounce Avenue, on Monday, May 6th at 10 a.m.

Share list shall close for Victoria May 14th, 5 p.m.

THE METHODIST CONFERENCE

Anxiety Increasing on Account of the Missing Steamer Glad Tidings.

Reception of Probationers to Take Place To-Night—Centennial Church Trouble.

On resuming business yesterday afternoon, the Methodist conference proceeded to complete the elections. Rev. J. Calvert and T. D. Pearson, Esq., were appointed assistant secretaries, and Rev. C. H. M. Sutherland, journal secretary.

Memorials were heard from every part of the work recommending the re-arrangement of several circuits and missions with a view to economy both of men and money and also to provide if possible better adjustment of the work, so that every minister may be available for as much service as possible. These memorials were referred to the proper committees, who in turn will hear all the facts and report to the open conference for final action. Any important change that may be made will be announced when such confirmation takes place.

The conference committees were appointed to take into consideration the various phases of the work, each under its proper head. They are educational, contingent fund, sustentation fund, state of work, Sabbath school and Epworth League committees. These met and organized at the adjournment of the afternoon session and will begin their work to-morrow.

During the session Rev. Dr. Campbell, of First Presbyterian church, and Rev. A. B. Winchester, were introduced to the conference and tendered their fraternal greetings. They were granted corresponding privileges.

A committee consisting of Revs. A. E. Green, G. H. Raley, James Calvert, with Messrs. J. Haggart, E. Odlum and J. Jessop, was appointed to take any action they may deem proper in sending an expedition to relieve the overdue Glad Tidings.

TO-DAY'S SESSION.

The conference was in session again this morning and was busy as usual, though very little of interest to the public was transacted. The Glad Tidings not having arrived is still the cause of increasing anxiety to the members. A telegram was received from the mission rooms at Toronto making inquiry regarding her, and the committee appointed yesterday by the conference had their powers enlarged and were urged to take any measure deemed necessary for her relief. A resolution has been passed memorializing the Dominion authorities to dispatch a steamer to look for her.

Several bills and accounts were discussed and passed, and letters read from general conference and missionary officials were discussed and referred to committees.

A memorial from the trustees of the Centennial Methodist church, asking the conference to take over the church property and relieve them (the trustees) from financial liabilities, was read, and, on motion, a special committee on church property was appointed with full power to call for papers and persons to investigate the case and report to the conference.

On motion of the conference the consideration of the report of the college committee was made the order of business for the afternoon session. Several changes were made in the appointments on the conference programme, a number of ministers being excused from the work on which they were planned, so that they may be sent out of the city to take work in the supply of other Methodist pulpits.

NOTES.

Rev. S. Cleaver makes a splendid presiding officer. His geniality and good humor is always a relief at any strained point and the conference felicitates itself on its choice. The secretaries, too, are all capable, and the work of the conference will no doubt proceed smoothly under the management of its new staff.

At the reception service this evening Rev. Ebenezer Robson will move the reception of the candidates for the ministry and it will be seconded by Rev. C. Watson. This service is always full of interest to the general public, and a large turnout may be expected. Two probationers who have been recommended will be heard this evening. They are J. D. P. Knox, of Victoria, and D. D. Birks, of the Kamloops district.

CHESS.

THE TOURNAMENT.

The tournament of the Victoria Chess club terminated last night. The struggle has been protracted over a period of three months and has been most fruitful of interest from the first. It is evident that the best players have come to the front, with a result doubtless that in the future tournaments they will be more heavily handicapped. Mr. T. Piper, who played in the first class, has, as expected, been placed first. He only lost one game and drew one. The game lost was to Mr. C. Dubois Mason, playing in the fourth class, and the drawn game was with Mr. Marchant, playing in the second class, only one game each being played with these two players. Three players, Messrs. P. Schwengers, Earsman and Bour, withdrew early in the contest, their games being scored against them and as wins in favor of their opponents. All unfinished games were counted as draws, 1-2 game as lost and won. The score following is official and correct:

Cls.	Name.	Won.	Lst.	D.	d. h. d.	Ful l Score
1	T. Piper	35	1	1	11	41

The players were handicapped as follows: Class 1 conceded to class 2, pawn and move; to class 3, pawn and two moves; to class 4, a knight; to class 5 a rook.

A challenge was issued for a match with the Vancouver Chess club on May 24th, but it failed to materialize owing to the Vancouver club being unable to obtain a team for that day. A correspondence game will shortly be entered upon between the two clubs. The Victoria Chess club believe that the chess capital will remain anchored at the metropolis.

BASEBALL.

TO-MORROW'S GAME.

There should be a crowd at the Victoria-Seattle baseball game to-morrow at the Caledonia grounds. The Amity team will do its level best to hold down the champion Seattle nine. Much depends on Franklin's twirling, and those who have watched him at practice are inclined to think that he will be equal to the occasion. The secretary of the Seattle club forwarded the names of the visiting players to-day. The Amity nine were selected last evening. Here are the names of the teams in batting order:

Victoria.—Partridge, 1 b.; Duck, l. f.; Gus Gowen, c. f.; George Gowen, 3 b.; Schultz, r. f.; Williams, s. s.; Widdowson, 2 b.; Huxtable, c.; Franklin, p.; Jackson, substitute.

Seattle.—Green, s. s.; McKinstry, 1 b.; Morris, l. f.; Pope, 2 b.; Simmonds, c.; Nelson, 3 b.; Turner, r. f.; King, p.; Westlake, substitute.

MISCELLANEOUS.

The Victoria Wheelmen's Club have secured rooms in the old Province building on Broughton street, which they are now fitting.

The contract for the Victoria Yacht Club's new club house has been awarded to J. Hatch.

At a joint meeting of the Victoria and Union gun clubs last evening, H. N. Short was appointed club secretary. All the clubs in British Columbia and Washington will be invited to participate in the tournament.

DOMESTICATING ELEPHANTS

Work of the German Government for an African Beast of Burden.

Germany, which feels the want of a reliable beast of burden in her East African territory even more than England, seems to have resolved on the redomestication of the African elephant. Some time ago a German officer commenced a series of visits to the Indian "keddahs," and after mastering so far as possible the Indian methods of catching and training wild elephants, has hired a staff of experienced Indian catchers and trainers, and is to establish a government "elephant stud" in German East Africa. Commenting on the chances of the success of this enterprise, Mr. Carl Hagenback, proprietor of the Zoological Gardens at Hamburg and New York, has contributed an interesting article to the Hamburger Nachrichten, says the London Spectator.

Mr. Hagenback's paper takes the form of a plea for the preservation of the African elephant. But with him preservation is only the necessary preliminary to their redomestication, for the probable success in which he gives reasons which should be very encouraging to those now pledged to the undertaking. Mr. Hagenback writes with authority on the subject. Out of 200 elephants brought to Europe in recent years he has imported 170, and many of these have remained in his Zoological gardens at Hamburg and in America. With the histories of the rest since they passed into other hands he is perfectly familiar. He was recently able to tell the writer the exact number of African elephants and the owner of each in the different countries of Europe, and he has a natural insight into the ways and means of animal domestication. He gives it as his opinion that the general belief that "African elephants are not as strong as, are wilder and less easily tamed and possess less endurance than the Indian species is wrong." He maintains, on the contrary, that they are stronger, and at least as tractable and as useful as beasts of burden or to be ridden as Indian elephants, and he claims to have convinced the Berlin Geographical Society that this view was correct as early as 1878, when he had a number of African elephants in that city.

It will be quite sufficient for practical purposes if a part only of these anticipations are realized. If the African elephant can be trained and made an obedient slave, it will be a factor of enormous importance in a district where the tsetse fly stops all animal carriage and where, for generations, human—that is, slave—transport has been the sole means of conveying goods from the interior to the coast. The African elephant may well answer this purpose without becoming such a marvel of intelligence and docility as his Indian relative. Moreover, he is not only as strong, but far stronger in mere physique than the Indian—the males being on an average two feet and the females one foot higher than the Asiatic species. Whether they have quite the same massive dray horse build may be doubted: but for most purposes they would be even more serviceable as beasts of burden, and the question of general constitution would hardly arise in the case of animals used in their own country, as these would be in the German colonies.

CANCER ON THE LIP
CURED BY
AYER'S Sarsaparilla

"I consulted doctors who prescribed for me, but to no purpose. I suffered in agony seven long years. Finally, I began taking Ayer's Sarsaparilla. In a week or two I noticed a decided improvement. Encouraged by this result, I persevered, until in a month or so the sore began to heal, and, after using the Sarsaparilla for six months, the last trace of the cancer disappeared."—James E.
